MERIDIAN, MS - October 23, 2012- CARF International announced that Tom C. Maynor Rehabilitation Center has been re-accredited for a period of three years for its adult inpatient rehabilitation program
. The latest accreditation is the fourth consecutive Three-Year Accreditation that the international accrediting body, CARF, has awarded to Tom C. Maynor Rehabilitation Center.

This accreditation decision represents the highest level of accreditation that can be awarded to an organization and shows the organization's substantial conformance to the CARF standards. An organization receiving a Three-Year Accreditation has put itself through a rigorous peer review process. It has demonstrated to a team of surveyors during an on-site visit its commitment to offering programs and services that are measurable, accountable, and of the highest quality.

Tom C. Maynor Rehabilitation Center is located at Anderson Regional Medical Center- South and has been providing adult inpatient rehabilitation services in Meridian since 2000.

CARF is an independent, nonprofit accrediting body whose mission is to promote the quality, value, and optimal outcomes of services through a consultative accreditation process that centers on enhancing the lives of the persons served. Founded in 1966 as the Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities, and now known as CARF International, the accrediting body establishes consumer-focused standards to help organizations measure and improve the quality of their programs and services. For more information about the accreditation process, please visit the CARF website at www.carf.org .

Anderson Regional Medical Center is the largest health care facility in East Mississippi/West Alabama and provides services through many centers, including the region's most established heart center and only regional cancer center.
